ASGI is your Partner for Mission Critical Systems

Every year, we demonstrate a track record of success in system and subsystem implementations. As a value-added alternative to in-house development, we offer you the option to outsource all or part of your project's engineering effort as needed, so you can focus on leveraging your own core competencies in the most critical areas for your positioning and brand.

ASGI onsite Workflow Technologies practice offers a comprehensive blend of products and service offerings those address your needs throughout the Concept to Completion and Process Improvement lifecycle.

Technology Consulting

We recognize that nobody understands your business better than you. What makes us more valuable is our understanding what you are trying to accomplish from a business point-of-view first, then from a technology perspective.

It is highly likely that your ultimate business objective is to make more money. Whether directly - through increasing sales, or indirectly - through improving efficiencies to spend less, the end result is the same - make more money.

Once we understand your business needs and objectives, and the dynamics of your business and industry, we'll begin exploring technology solutions that will get you there. Yes, we are a technology company, but our approach of business first, then technology, has been proven to save time and money.

Get most for your Investment

Keeping technology fresh and containing costs are perennial issues for every organization. Today, equally critical are how to use technology to help differentiate yourself and how to get the most out of your investment. One answer is to focus more attention on creative revenue generation, and considerably less attention on technology infrastructure. With outsourcing from ASGI, organizations gain the freedom to focus on what counts.
